What previous enforcement experience have you had that qualifies you for this office?

I have been the Constable for 22 yrs & my responsibility for all evictions have been achieved in a normal manner as directed to me by the Court.

What previous enforcement experience have you had that qualifies you for this office?

The Constable's office is the enforcement division of City Court. However, the deputies serve the notices. The Constable is responsible for managing those deputies, files/records, and the office budget among other things, making the Constable a manager.

2. The office also oversees a staff of deputy constables, keeps extensive legal records and has fiduciary responsibility for garnishment payments. What administrative experience have you had in these areas?

As the manager of the Constable's office I would draw on my experience as a campaign operative, a deputy communications director, a community development director, a legislative assistant, and an office manager. Those positions required me to keep several projects progressing toward completion simultaneously, create and manage a budget, keep detailed records, and in some cases to supervise staff or volunteers.
